About the ELAR TEKS

The following pages contain the vertical-alignment version of the 2008 revised English Language Arts and Reading Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (ELAR TEKS).

This document contains the same information as the rule text, which is available on the Texas Education Agency Web site; however, it has been reformatted to display, at a glance, the corresponding student expectations for each grade level.

The ELAR TEKS vertical alignment for K–English IV consists of the following sections:

- Introduction
- Reading Strand
- Comprehension skills found in Figure 19 *
- Writing Strand
- Oral and Written Conventions Strand
- Research Strand
- Listening and speaking Strand

*Note: For ease of use, the comprehension skills found in Figure 19 have been included between the Reading and Writing strands to help teachers integrate the reading and writing student expectations when planning instruction.

Introduction Section

The first part of the Introduction of the ELAR TEKS contains important information about the cumulative nature of the standards. The language of the Introduction is almost identical across all grade levels. The differences have been provided as footnotes at the bottom of the document.

The next part of the Introduction contains specific information to guide the instruction of English language learners (ELLs) in their acquisition of reading skills, their vocabulary development, and the improvement of their English-language proficiency.

The last parts contain additional information about requirements for the state of Texas.

Strands of the TEKS

The ELAR TEKS are divided into five strands: Reading, Writing, Oral and Written Conventions, Research, and Listening and Speaking. Within each of these strands are components that define the type of text students will use or the type of writing students will engage in. There are subsections within some of the components.

For each strand, the vertical alignment contains a guide that summarizes the structure and applicable grade levels for each knowledge and skill statement.

The first column of this guide contains the tagline (i.e., strand/component/subsection) and applicable grade levels. The highlighted grade levels indicate the grades in which this component or subsection is addressed.

The second column lists the knowledge and skills statement for each component or subsection. These knowledge and skills statements are often exactly the same across grade levels K–12. Sometimes a knowledge and skills statement applies only to a specific range of grade levels.

The third column lists examples from the Texas College and Career Readiness Standards (CCRS) that closely align with the ELAR TEKS. The CCRS in this column are not intended to be a comprehensive list of all correspondences with the ELAR TEKS. You are encouraged to explore the CCRS yourself to discover additional correspondences with the ELAR TEKS.

In the pages following the guide for each strand are the student expectations for each knowledge and skills statement. These are the measurable expectations that teachers will use when planning instruction.

Comprehension Skills Found in Figure 19

There are three Figure 19 charts for English: one covers grades K–5, the second covers grades 6–8, and the third covers English I–IV.

All versions of Figure 19 share the same knowledge and skills statement: “Students use a flexible range of metacognitive reading skills in both assigned and independent reading to understand an author’s message. Students will continue to apply earlier standards with greater depth in increasingly more complex texts as they become self-directed, critical readers.”

Although Figure 19 appears as a separate document on the TEA Web site, it is part of the TEKS for language arts and reading. These comprehension skills are critical to model and teach so that our students will become successful readers.

For ease of use, the comprehension skills found in Figure 19 have been included in this document between the Reading and Writing strands to help teachers integrate the reading and writing student expectations when planning instruction.

Introduction

ELAR Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills

The ELAR TEKS Introduction is identically worded across grade levels with a few exceptions. These exceptions are marked with numbered footnotes in the text on the next pages. We use the first-grade Introduction as the basis for our example.

Chapter 110. Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills for English Language Arts and Reading

§110.10.¹ Implementation of Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills for English Language Arts and Reading, Elementary,² Beginning with School Year 2009-2010.

(a) The provisions of §§110.11-110.16³ of this subchapter shall be implemented by school districts beginning with the 2009-2010 school year and at that time shall supersede §§110.2-110.7⁴ of this subchapter.

(b) Students must develop the ability to comprehend and process material from a wide range of texts. Student expectations for Reading/Comprehension Skills as provided in this subsection are described for the appropriate grade level.

§110.12.⁷ English Language Arts and Reading, Grade 1,⁸ Beginning with School Year 2009-2010.

(a) Introduction.

(1) The English Language Arts and Reading Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) are organized into the following strands: Reading, where students read and understand a wide variety of literary and informational texts; Writing, where students compose a variety of written texts with a clear controlling idea, coherent organization, and sufficient detail; Research, where students are expected to know how to locate a range of relevant sources and evaluate, synthesize, and present ideas and information; Listening and Speaking, where students listen and respond to the ideas of others while contributing their own ideas in conversations and in groups; and Oral and Written Conventions, where students learn how to use the oral and written conventions of the English language in speaking and writing. The Reading strand is structured to reflect the major topic areas of the National Reading Panel Report.⁹ In first grade,¹⁰ students will engage in activities that build on their prior knowledge and skills in order to strengthen their reading, writing, and oral language skills. Students should write and read (or be read to) on a daily basis.¹¹

7 The statute number differs by grade level:

K	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	Eng. I	Eng. II	Eng. III	Eng. IV
§110.11	§110.12	§110.13	§110.14	§110.15	§110.16	§110.18	§110.19	§110.20	§110.31	§110.32	§110.33	§110.34

8 Substitute the appropriate grade level.

9 This sentence is for grades K–2 only. For grades 3–English IV, this sentence reads: “The standards are cumulative--students will continue to address earlier standards as needed while they attend to standards for their grade.”

10 Substitute the appropriate grade level.

11 For kindergarten, this section reads: “...students engage in activities that build on their natural curiosity and prior knowledge to develop their reading, writing, and oral language skills.”

For grades 3–English IV, this section reads: “...students will engage in activities that build on their prior knowledge and skills in order to strengthen their reading, writing, and oral language skills. Students should read and write on a daily basis.”

(2) For students whose first language is not English, the students' native language serves as a foundation for English language acquisition.

- (A) English language learners (ELLs) are acquiring English, learning content in English, and learning to read simultaneously. For this reason, it is imperative that reading instruction should be comprehensive and that students receive instruction in phonemic awareness, phonics, decoding, and word attack skills while simultaneously being taught academic vocabulary and comprehension skills and strategies. Reading instruction that enhances ELLs ability to decode unfamiliar words and to make sense of those words in context will expedite their ability to make sense of what they read and learn from reading. Additionally, developing fluency, spelling, and grammatical conventions of academic language must be done in meaningful contexts and not in isolation.
 - (B) For ELLs, comprehension of texts requires additional scaffolds to support comprehensible input. ELL students should use the knowledge of their first language (e.g., cognates) to further vocabulary development. Vocabulary needs to be taught in the context of connected discourse so that language is meaningful. ELLs must learn how rhetorical devices in English differ from those in their native language. At the same time English learners are learning in English, the focus is on academic English, concepts, and the language structures specific to the content.
 - (C) During initial stages of English development, ELLs are expected to meet standards in a second language that many monolingual English speakers find difficult to meet in their native language. However, English language learners' abilities to meet these standards will be influenced by their proficiency in English. While English language learners can analyze, synthesize, and evaluate, their level of English proficiency may impede their ability to demonstrate this knowledge during the initial stages of English language acquisition. It is also critical to understand that ELLs with no previous or with interrupted schooling will require explicit and strategic support as they acquire English and learn to learn in English simultaneously.
- (3) To meet Public Education Goal 1 of the Texas Education Code, §4.002, which states, "The students in the public education system will demonstrate exemplary performance in the reading and writing of the English language," students will accomplish the essential knowledge, skills, and student expectations at Grade 1¹² as described in subsection (b) of this section.
- (4) To meet Texas Education Code, §28.002(h), which states, "... each school district shall foster the continuation of the tradition of teaching United States and Texas history and the free enterprise system in regular subject matter and in reading courses and in the adoption of textbooks," students will be provided oral and written narratives as well as other informational texts that can help them to become thoughtful, active citizens who appreciate the basic democratic values of our state and nation.

ELAR TEKS Vertical Alignment

Grades K–English IV

The English Language Arts and Reading (ELAR) Vertical Alignment Chart is a tool that allows the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) to be viewed across multiple grade levels. The TEKS for kindergarten are listed here in the same order as they are presented in the ELAR TEKS document. After kindergarten, the ELAR TEKS are listed to correlate with previous grade levels. Consequently, in viewing columns for grades 1–English IV, you may see various letters [(A), (B), (i), (ii), etc.] that are not in order preceding the student expectation.

READING

Students read and understand a wide variety of literary and informational texts.

Reading/Beginning Reading Skills/Print Awareness.
Students understand how English is written and printed. Students are expected to:
1(A) recognize that spoken words can be represented by print for communication;	1(A) recognize that spoken words are represented in written English by specific sequences of letters;
1(B) identify upper- and lower-case letters;	1(B) identify upper- and lower-case letters;
1(C) demonstrate the one-to-one correspondence between a spoken word and a printed word in text;
1(D) recognize the difference between a letter and a printed word;
	1(C) sequence the letters of the alphabet;
1(E) recognize that sentences are comprised of words separated by spaces and demonstrate the awareness of word boundaries (e.g., through kinesthetic or tactile actions such as clapping and jumping);	1(D) recognize the distinguishing features of a sentence (e.g., capitalization of first word, ending punctuation);	1(A) distinguish features of a sentence (e.g., capitalization of first word, ending punctuation, commas, quotation marks).
1(F) hold a book right side up, turn its pages correctly, and know that reading moves from top to bottom and left to right;	1(E) read texts by moving from top to bottom of the page and tracking words from left to right with return sweep;
1(G) identify different parts of a book (e.g., front and back covers, title page).	1(F) identify the information that different parts of a book provide (e.g., title, author, illustrator, table of contents).

Reading/Beginning Reading Skills/Phonological Awareness.
Students display phonological awareness. Students are expected to:
2(A) identify a sentence made up of a group of words;
2(B) identify syllables in spoken words;
2(C) orally generate rhymes in response to spoken words (e.g., “What rhymes with hat?”);	2(A) orally generate a series of original rhyming words using a variety of phonograms (e.g., -ake, -ant, -ain) and consonant blends (e.g., bl, st, tr);
	2(B) distinguish between long- and short-vowel sounds in spoken one-syllable words (e.g., bit/bite);
	2(C) recognize the change in a spoken word when a specified phoneme is added, changed, or removed (e.g., /b/l/o/w/ to /g/l/o/w/);
2(D) distinguish orally presented rhyming pairs of words from non-rhyming pairs;
2(E) recognize spoken alliteration or groups of words that begin with the same spoken onset or initial sound (e.g., “baby boy bounces the ball”);
2(F) blend spoken onsets and rimes to form simple words (e.g., onset /c/ and rime /at/ make cat);
2(G) blend spoken phonemes to form one-syllable words (e.g., /m/.../a/.../n/ says man);	2(D) blend spoken phonemes to form one- and two-syllable words, including consonant blends (e.g., spr);
2(H) isolate the initial sound in one-syllable spoken words;	2(E) isolate initial, medial, and final sounds in one-syllable spoken words;
2(i) segment spoken one-syllable words into two to three phonemes (e.g., dog: /d/ .../o/ .../g/).	2(F) segment spoken one-syllable words of three to five phonemes into individual phonemes (e.g., splat = /s/p/l/a/t/).

11(B) identify the meaning of specific signs (e.g., traffic signs, warning signs).	15(B) explain the meaning of specific signs and symbols (e.g., map features).	15(B) use common graphic features to assist in the interpretation of text (e.g., captions, illustrations).	15(B) locate and use specific information in graphic features of text.	13(B) explain factual information presented graphically (e.g., charts, diagrams, graphs, illustrations).	13(B) interpret factual or quantitative information presented in maps, charts, illustrations, graphs, timelines, tables, and diagrams.	12(B) interpret factual, quantitative, or technical information presented in maps, charts, illustrations, graphs, timelines, tables, and diagrams.	12(B) explain the function of the graphical components of a text.	12(B) evaluate graphics for their clarity in communicating meaning or achieving a specific purpose.	11(B) analyze factual, quantitative, or technical data presented in multiple graphical sources.	11(B) synthesize information from multiple graphical sources to draw conclusions about the ideas presented (e.g., maps, charts, schematics).	11(B) translate (from text to graphic or from graphic to text) complex, factual, quantitative, or technical information presented in maps, charts, illustrations, graphs, timelines, tables, and diagrams.	11(B) evaluate the structures of text (e.g., format, headers) for their clarity and organizational coherence and for the effectiveness of their graphic representations.
Reading/Media Literacy.
Students use comprehension skills to analyze how words, images, graphics, and sounds work together in various forms to impact meaning. Students will continue to apply earlier standards with greater depth in increasingly more complex texts. Students are expected to:
12(A) identify different forms of media (e.g., advertisements, newspapers, radio programs) (with adult assistance);	16(A) recognize different purposes of media (e.g., to inform, to entertain) (with adult assistance);	16(A) recognize different purposes of media (e.g., informational, entertainment);	16(A) understand how communication changes when moving from one genre of media to another;	14(A) explain the positive and negative impacts of advertisement techniques used in various genres of media to impact consumer behavior;	14(A) explain how messages conveyed in various forms of media are presented differently (e.g., documentaries, online information, televised news);	13(A) explain messages conveyed in various forms of media;	13(A) interpret both explicit and implicit messages in various forms of media;	13(A) evaluate the role of media in focusing attention on events and informing opinion on issues;	12(A) compare and contrast how events are presented and information is communicated by visual images (e.g., graphic art, illustrations, news photographs) versus non-visual texts;	12(A) evaluate how messages presented in media reflect social and cultural views in ways different from traditional texts;	12(A)	12(A)
12(B) identify techniques used in media (e.g., sound, movement) (with adult assistance).	16(B) identify techniques used in media (e.g., sound, movement).	16(B) describe techniques used to create media messages (e.g., sound, graphics);	16(B) explain how various design techniques used in media influence the message (e.g., shape, color, sound);	14(B) explain how various design techniques used in media influence the message (e.g., pacing, close-ups, sound effects);	14(B) consider the difference in techniques used in media (e.g., commercials, documentaries, news);	13(C) critique persuasive techniques (e.g., testimonials, bandwagon appeal) used in media messages;	13(B) interpret how visual and sound techniques (e.g., special effects, camera angles, lighting, music) influence the message;	13(B)	12(B) analyze how messages in media are conveyed through visual and sound techniques (e.g., editing, reaction shots, sequencing, background music);	12(B)	12(B) evaluate the interactions of different techniques (e.g., layout, pictures, typeface in print media, images, text, sound in electronic journalism) used in multi-layered media;	12(B)

ELAR TEKS Vertical Alignment

Grades K–English IV

The English Language Arts and Reading (ELAR) Vertical Alignment Chart is a tool that allows the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) to be viewed across multiple grade levels. The TEKS for kindergarten are listed here in the same order as they are presented in the ELAR TEKS document. After kindergarten, the ELAR TEKS are listed to correlate with previous grade levels. Consequently, in viewing columns for grades 1–English IV, you may see various letters [(A), (B), (i), (ii), etc.] that are not in order preceding the student expectation.

WRITING

Students compose a variety of written texts with a clear controlling idea, coherent organization, and sufficient detail.

ELAR TEKS Vertical Alignment

Grades K–English IV

The English Language Arts and Reading (ELAR) Vertical Alignment Chart is a tool that allows the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) to be viewed across multiple grade levels. The TEKS for kindergarten are listed here in the same order as they are presented in the ELAR TEKS document. After kindergarten, the ELAR TEKS are listed to correlate with previous grade levels. Consequently, in viewing columns for grades 1–English IV, you may see various letters [(A), (B), (i), (ii), etc.] that are not in order preceding the student expectation.

ORAL AND WRITTEN CONVENTIONS

Students learn how to use the oral and written conventions of the English language in speaking and writing.
